I have just received your letter of the 10th
 and am glad to hear that you are well and hope you will continue to improve. I have not time to write you more fully at present but will do so as soon as I can.
 I am, dear friend,
 ever your affectionate
 friend,
 Wm. Lloyd Garrison

[Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is scattered across the page and is mostly illegible due to low contrast and blurring.]

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. It appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a report or document. The text is arranged in several paragraphs, with some lines appearing to be numbered or bulleted. The overall appearance is that of a scanned document with significant ghosting or bleed-through.

Dear Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst. in relation to the above named matter.

I am sorry that I cannot give you more satisfactory information at this time, but I have not had an opportunity to examine the papers in this connection.

I will endeavor to do so as soon as possible and will give you my findings as soon as they are ready.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,

Dear Sister:

I think this is the first time that I have written to you since you left us, but as it is fast approaching bed-time, I will not write much.

You must excuse the writing, as my fingers are very stiff from work. I am still in the "Union" Office and am getting along finely. The above is some of my printing. San Diego is as dull as ever, and papa has not got into any business yet, but I hope he will soon. No signs of a rail-road yet. I hope you are well, and having a good time.

Mattie Groenbeck sends much love to you and would like to see you again, she has grown to be quite a woman. She wants you to write to her. I am now writing a letter to Mrs Appleton, and I say that you send much love to her, and would like to see her again. I would like to see her very much.

Mamma has not been very well since her return here. All well at home, and are happy, hope you are on the same fix. My love to Grandma and Buntz; tell them I would like to see them again. Good bye. From your affectionate Brother J. H. H. baby.
