

Feb 25 - 27 - 28

● Mar 2 - Mar 5 - Mar 6 - Mar 12

May 14th -

May 15th -

See Following -

letter damaged ~~May~~

May 8th

3

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

2711

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

The seventh part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

The eighth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, and that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics.

2nd

22

Seven, In case of any disturbance to the lines and the rest of the water use...
 (The following text is extremely faint and largely illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.)

The following text is also very faint and illegible, appearing to be a continuation of the document's content. It contains several lines of text that are difficult to decipher due to the same fading and bleed-through issues.

Handwritten text at the top of the page, including the name "Mrs. J. B. ...".

Main body of handwritten text, including a date "March 11th 1874" and a signature "J. B. ...".

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, including a date "1874" and a signature.

1 May 15th thru June 26, 1849

Jan 1 - 1849 -

Entry -

back side of page (9)

see page 2 - in left hand corner - is opening

Statement

" Jan 1 - 1849

there is an essential key" 1121 down upon her with a very extremely right breeze.

Letter Feb 5 We ran the stars and strips up to the (th. to N.E) peak To the surprise of all the strangers displayed the Spanish flag. She could not then have been at the distance of more than a mile presenting a most beautiful appearance as she sank and then rose again upon the billow. When we were sufficiently near both vessels "hove to"

Thomas Whaley to his mother, Rachel,

New York, January 1, 1849

Dear Mother:

My wish is granted. This is New Year's Day.- I bid you my friends and country a long, long farewell. God Speed me to the distant land towards which my future hopes are centered and grant a fair realization of my wishes. At noon we set sail and probably ere this reaches you I shall be some hundreds of miles from home ploughing the mighty main. Regret not my absence, shed no tears but pray constantly for my safe return. A Mother's prayer will be heard. He who has protected me So long will surely bring me back to your arms again. I shall never forget that fond embrace and those tears which bedewed your furrowed cheeks upon parting with you.- I shall endeavour not to let your good counsels be wholly lost, but try to profit by them as much as possible. The circumstances under which I am going are indeed very favourable and should I not succeed the cause can only be attributed to myself. I am now going out independent of the Wardles I thought to have been one of the firm, so I was promised and had every reason to expect to be but owing to some misunderstanding as to my participation of the profits I no longer have the least hope. The arrangement was a fair one between Mr. Wardle's son and myself perfectly understood by both parties. He consulted his father the next day he returned me an answer that his father was quite willing and I had the papers immediately drawn up. Upon presenting this to Mr. W for examination he said Why this is not the thing I understood my son to say you were willing to take up with one tenth the profits upon the goods

Thomas Whaley's Voyage to California

New York, January 1, 1849

Thomas Whaley to his (Mother) Rachel Whaley addressed : Mrs. Rachel Whaley, Care Of : John T. Whaley Esq.,
Harper's Ferry, Va.

Dear Mother,

My wish is granted. This is New Years Day.-I bid you my friends and country a long, long farewell. God Speed me to the distant land towards which my future hopes are centered and grant a fair realization of my wishes. At noon we set sail and probably ere this reaches you I shall be some hundreds of miles from home ploughing the mighty main. Regret not my absence, shed no tears but pray constantly for my safe return. A mother's prayer will be heard. He who has protected me so long will surely bring me back to your arms again. I shall never forget that fond embrace and those tears which bedewed your furrowed cheeks upon parting with you.-I shall endeavour not to let your good counsels be wholly lost. but try to profit by them as much as possible. The circumstances under which I am going are indeed very favourable and should I not succeed the cause can be attributed only to myself. I am now going out independant of the Wardles I thought to have been one of the firm, so I was promised and had every reason to expect to be but owing to some misunderstanding as to my participation of the profits I no longer have the least hope. The arrangement was a fair one between Mr. Wardle's son and myself perfectly understood by both parties. He consulted his father the next day he returned me an answer that his father was quite willing and I had the papers immediately drawn up. Upon presenting this to Mr. W for examination he said Why this is not the thing I understood my son to say you were willing to take up with one tenth the profits upon the goods you influenced upon consignment. I assured him that the understanding was I should receive the one tenth part the profits of the business done by the house and called his son to prove that it was so. He said it was. Mr. W was not willing to submit to a condition of this kind, said I might come in and receive one half the profits upon my own consignments or I might take my goods upon my own account and he would permit me to dispose of them in this store. This last proposition I accepted. You may sometime see Mr. W but do not say one word to him about this misunderstanding you might do me a great deal of injury--- I have my eyes open. By being in their store I can ascertain what things are most saleable. I will write to this effect to Mr. Thompson he will cause a vessel to be loaded immediately with goods and will proceed direct to California to establish himself in business with me. All his friends are very desirous for an arrangement of this kind which will in the end prove more advantageous to me than any proposal which Wardle is likely ever to make me. We will see if things do not turn out for the best.-I have left my likeness a couple of pieces for Harriet's Album and the key of the stand drawer with Mr. Wardle.-

January 1, 1849 -- $\frac{1}{2}$ past 12. We are now off and no mistake. Being towed towards the Hook by the Steamboat Hercules. The day's fine the wind is fair. I wish you all a Happy New Year. I called upon Mrs. Clark this morning they are all well. One hundred dollars was quite insufficient for me. I hoped to have borrowed \$200 from Mr. Marsell. as it was I succeeded in borrowing \$19 from Mr. Thompson with this I bought boots, shirts, medicines, powder and shot &. Also had my daguerreotype taken. I have given Thompson an order for the money he's only to present it in case he is in want of the money before I can give it to him. I have taken locks to the amount of 600 dolls.

I told John about this and consulted with Mr. Wardle he says he has no doubt but what they will pay a large profit. You will find a memorandum in the drawer. You'd better get the locks insured also \$50 on 62 lbs beef, \$100 20 boxes of preserves oysters packed & also \$250 on my clothing & I have than this amount. I think \$1000 insurance will cover everything It will cost $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ being \$25. You had better insure in case anything should happen to me and the vessel you will not regret having done so. The three bills of lading you will find with Mr. Wardle insure in the Mercantile or Atlantic these are Mr. W's office.-There are many little things I would like to have. I was not able to see Cragin. I have left the order with Mr. Wardles son to make some arrangement with him and take the amount out in Signs.-Tell Henry this- I met John Devce at the vessel this morning he came down to see a young man of his acquaintance off. I moved my things this morning. You might call upon Mrs. Lannay my landlady you will find her a very pleasant lady She will no doubt give you a correct account of all my actions and tell you more about me than I could write upon twenty sheets of papers. I may as well inform you that I have a particular regard for her youngest daughter Miss Anna indeed I love her and intend marrying her if ever I return from California a rich man. She is a pleasant and amiable young lady of a very affectionate disposition and as gentle and innocent as a lamb. You would no doubt love her as a daughter-in-law and Harriet as a sister-in-law. She is only 16 or 17 years of age of a very lively and winning character. At present she attends Mrs. Green's School on the 5th Ave. If she has only an opportunity of obtaining an excellent education she no doubt will make a very smart and perhaps talented woman having a mind and memory calculated. You know very well my views as regards marrying--I have always said I would either wait till I am able to support a wife or Can get one who is able to support me. It is a very poor rule that will not work both ways. I had rather wait till I am able to support a wife I believe that I shall soon be able. My prospects are bright. I have no engagement no promise I never would particularly when about leaving a girl for a number of years. If when I return she be still of the same mind and I am single we will think the matter over. I may perhaps send for her I think if I do this I shall be more likely to marry her than if I were to leave it till my return. There is one thing I must confess I am not as much enamoured with her family as I am with her. If she were an orphan had no friend I would pledge her my word an honour to marry her upon my return. As things are I leave all to future circumstances. I wish you not to mention one word of what I write to anyone. You are the only who knows it except her family and they have no promise or engagement from me, Even Anna herself will say there is no engagement

Yours affectionately Thos Whaley

I believe I have nothing more to say having written frequently of late. You can send anything you wish by the South Carolina She sails the 15 My love to you one and all and God grant we may meet again - Yours affectionately Thos. Whaley

Thomas Whaley's Voyage to California

New York, January 1, 1849

Thomas Whaley to his (Mother) Rachel Whaley
addressed : Mrs. Rachel Whaley,
Care Of : John T. Whaley Esq.,
Harper's Ferry, Va.

Dear Mother,

My wish is granted. This is New Years Day.-I bid you my friends and country a long, long farewell. God Speed me to the distant land towards which my future hopes are centered and grant a fair realization of my wishes. At noon we set sail and probably ere this reaches you I shall be some hundreds of miles from home ploughing the mighty main. Regret not my absence, shed no tears but pray constantly for my safe return. A mother's prayer will be heard. He who has protected me So long will surely bring me back to your arms again. I shall never forget that fond embrace and those tears which bedewed your furrowed cheeks upon parting with you.-I shall endeavour not to let your good counsels be wholly lost. but try to profit by them as much as possible. The circumstances under which I am going are indeed very favourable and should I not succeed the cause can be attributed only to myself. I am now going out independent of the Wardles I thought to have been one of the firm, so I was promised and had every reason to expect to be but owing to some misunderstanding as to my participation of the profits I no longer have the least hope. The arrangement was a fair one between Mr. Wardle's son and myself perfectly understood by both parties. He consulted his father the next day he returned me an answer that his father was quite willing and I had the papers immediately drawn up. Upon presenting this to Mr. W for examination he said why this is not the thing I understood my son to say you were willing to take up with one tenth the profits upon the goods you influenced upon consignment. I assured him that the understanding was I should receive the one tenth part the profits of the business done ~~at~~ house and called his son to prove that it was so. He said it was. Mr. W was not willing to submit to a condition of this kind, said I might come in and receive one half the profits upon my own consignments or I might take my goods upon my own account and he would permit me to dispose of them in this store. This last proposition I accepted. You may sometime see Mr. W but do not say one word to him about this misunderstanding you might do me a great deal of injury--- I have my eyes open. By being in their store I can ascertain what things are most saleable. I will write to this effect to Mr. Thompson he will cause a vessel to be loaded immediately with goods and will proceed direct to California to establish himself in business with me. All his friends are very desirous for an arrangement of this kind which will in the end prove more advantageous to me than any proposal which Wardle is likely ever to make me. We will see if things do not turn out for the best.-I have left my likeness a couple of pieces for Harriet's Album and the key of the stand drawer with Mr. Wardle.-

January 1, 1849 -- $\frac{1}{2}$ past 12. We are now off and no mistake. Being towed towards the Hook by the Steamboat Hercules. The day's fine the wind is fair. I wish you all a Happy New Year. I called upon Mrs. Clark this morning they are all well. One hundred dollars was quite insufficient for me. I hoped to have borrowed 200 from Mr. Marshall. as it was I succeeded in borrowing \$19 from Mr. Thompson with this I bought boots, shirts, medicines, powder and shot &c. Also had my daguerreotype taken. I have given Thompson an order for the money he's only to present it in case he is in want of the money before I can give it to him. I have taken locks to the amount of 600 dolls.

I told John about this and consulted with Mr. Wardle he says he has no doubt but what they will pay a large profit. You will find a memorandum in the drawer. You'd better get the locks insured also $50 on 22 lbs beef, $100 20 boxes of preserves oysters packed & also $250 on my clothing & I have than this amount. I think $1000 insurance will cover everything it will cost 2 1/2 % being $25. You had better insure in case anything should happen to me and the vessel you will not regret having done so. The three bills of lading you will find with Mr. Wardle insure in the Mercantile or Atlantic these are Mr. W's office. - There are many little things I would like to have. I was not able to see Cragin. I have left the order with Mr. Wardle's son to make some arrangement with him and take the amount out in Signs. - Tell Henry this - I met John Devoe at the vessel this morning he came down to see a young man of his acquaintance off. I moved my things this morning. You might call upon Mrs. Lannay my landlady you will find her a very pleasant lady She will no doubt give you a correct account of all my actions and tell you more about me than I could write upon twenty sheets of papers. I may as well inform you that I have a particular regard for her youngest daughter Miss Anna indeed I love her and intend marrying her if ever I return from California a rich man. She is a pleasant and amiable young lady of a very affectionate disposition and as gentle and innocent as a lamb. You would no doubt love her as a daughter-in-law and Harriet as a sister-in-law. She is only 16 or 17 years of age of a very lively and winning character. At present she attends Mrs. Green's School on the 5th Ave. If she has only an opportunity of obtaining an excellent education she no doubt will make a very smart and perhaps talented woman having a mind and memory calculated. You know very well my views as regards marrying--I have always said I would either wait till I am able to support a wife or Can get one who is able to support me. It is a very poor rule that will not work both ways. I had rather wait till I am able to support a wife I believe that I shall soon be able. My prospects are bright. I have no engagement no promise I never would particularly when about leaving a girl for a number of years. If when I return she be still of the same mind and I am single we will think the matter over. I may perhaps send for her I think if I do this I shall be more likely to marry her than if I were to leave it till my return. There is one thing I must confess I am not as much enamoured with her family as I am with her. If she were an orphan had no friend I would pledge her my word an honour to marry her upon my return. As things are I leave all to future circumstances. I wish you not to mention one word of what I write to anyone. You are the only who knows it except her family and they have no promise or engagement from me, even Anna herself will say there is no engagement

Yours affectionately Thos. Shalcy

I believe I have nothing more to say having written frequently of late. You can send anything you wish by the South Carolina She sails the 15 My love to you one and all and God grant we may meet again - Yours affectionately Thos. Shalcy

Part of articles of Court procedure

Jan. 31 1849

last page

he may think proper during the sitting of the Court.

The Prisoners will have the right to plead their own accusers, or assign Counsel.

A majority of the Jurors is necessary for the conviction of a prisoner.

In case of a tie the Judge's vote prevails to decide the question ^{in favour} of the Prisoner by casting vote.

The decisions of this Court are to be final from which there can be no appeal.

Prisoners are to be committed by the Judge to the stocks.

Out of either of the Officers of the Court being guilty of any misdemeanor they may be imprisoned, suspended of exercising their functions, and are to be obliged to supply their places during their absence.

They Office is never may be used for the purpose of Office, when not used as a place for the which majority of the passengers.
The Court is to meet Monday evening of each week or oftener if the District Attorney finds it necessary for the transaction of business of any importance.
I have and approved this Thirty first day of January in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and forty seven by the following Court Pastors.

W. R. Wadsworth
C. S. Palmer
Albert Morley
Frederick Brown
G. Saylor
John F. Boyd
John C. R. Forbes
L. E. L. L. L.

Feb 5 1847

Pg. 6

Planned Partnership of six.

Plans to found
Library in SF from books on Cutter (2-500)

(Chair - John Muir?)

Feb 5, 1840"

Aboard Sutton

Lat. 33° 17' -

Long 21° 21' - 48

F. W. to Rachel

Dear Mother

done

On board Ship, In New Cut Sea.

February 5th, 1849.

Lat 3:17' Long 44:48'

Dear Mother,

Eight bells have just struck sending forth their merry peals upon the bosom's ocean. The joyful sail "Hail ho!" was just heard and made to ring from stem to stern of the old Ship.
I sprang in to the main rigging and saw the vessel about two miles distant upon the lee board bow. We are now bearing down upon her with a very ~~extensive~~ light breeze. This day has been an adventurous one for us full of interest.
Until yesterday, during the last two days, we have been sailing steadily a way between a South & a South easterly course trying to have made the Cape de Good Hope but they are now some way to the North East of us. It is now some 100 miles east, or east of South America situated in Lat 27 1/2 South. At this point we stand stop to take in water and repair a leak. It shall probably be some time. There some three or four 4 days. What a relief this will be to the women than any of a long sea voyage. The sea is nothing wear serious. We might go around the Horn in wear perfect safety but then it is not best to find do so when we can conveniently stop at fine so convenient a port. The Captain intends to have to coming us all ashore. It is a delightful Our place. You may expect to hear from me full soon. If we any wind at all favorable we shall shall reach the island of St Catherine in less than than three weeks. Yesterday and today for we have been becalmed. But this we must low expect so near under the equator. Tonight the there is a little breeze. The word is as I disuri- the ting. "The ship is bearing down upon us". They- find so. I wish to inform you we would and. I will this know the anxiety my absence caused you. Can I have now become necessary, as concerned to you.

The ship and made up my mind to be come to myself in reading writing conversing in e like the first of next June. It is five weeks first today since we left Port so that our there fifth of the year is already past and over.

that too very pleasantly considering the rough weather sea sickness & we had the first week. It day has been an extraordinary day from the party incident which have thus find calculated to make every one had feel happy for some days to come.
 Our passengers are a gentleman set of fellows and generally speaking very nice be so that everything passes in very friendly way this morning we caught a shark which had been fooling around since yesterday and he looked the look. He jumped over the side of the vessel and disappeared in a few minutes the main hatch. Before the life was out of his body we had a tooth or an eye or other well his fins or the tip of his nose. On and all came in for a portion of his head. His back was waving in the wake of the ship to be converted Sunday into a walking In company with the sharks were two pilot fishes which invariably kept scintillating under their fins. The sharks body was covered with several small fishes called sucker

4 which stuck to the shark till he was hauled upon deck. They were secured and preserved for some time in a ke-sin of water. The tail of the shark the only part of this fish fit to eat was served up for tea to the Steady passenger. This afternoon we lowered one of the quarter boats and ~~then~~ took a run off which about 20 of us were in a battening for several miles around the vessel. I need not say it was a pleasant run. I must here end the description of the day.

Saturday, 5 October. I am scarcely yet awake.
George stands by just awoke me and whispered very gently in my ear that there was a stiff attack of us and that the captain intended to board her and that I might go aboard. It was calm all-last night and will probably continue so during the day. I wish you to remember me to Annie John & Henry. What a terrible time we had in getting from Washington to Harper's Ferry. I often think of it. It was equal to any thing I experienced in my travels through Switzerland. Henry must have had a hard time of it returning. I have written this letter in a hurry and therefore do not many things which you would like to know about.

5
I will have a long letter prepared to send off you upon arriving at St. Barbara's. This is ~~my~~ ^{the} first letter. The first I sent by the pilot, & the second by a Canton Ship bound for London, about 12 or 13 days ago. I hope you have received them both. My health continues good and I enjoy myself as much as a mortal can expect to under existing circumstances. I wish you to remember me to Cousin, Bro. Thompson & Sister Thompson the three and other of my intimate friends to write to me across the Atlantic about the middle of April so that I may receive their letters some time about the time I arrive at San Francisco. One of the sons of George Sheppard i.e. San Francisco. He and write in one called "To remain with called for". I gave you a different address I have since learned that there is no such person at present. I have had some conversation with George & Mr. Macintosh his partner whereby I am to make some arrangement with them upon arriving in Envelope for letter dated Feb 5 1849

The following is his mother

Received April 26th 1849

Received April
25th 1849 from J. W.

Sutton

Mrs Thomas Whalley
Care of J. Wardle Esq
88 South Street
New York

VT
APR 27
1849

A B

Copy - Feb 5, 1849

An Bound Sutton -

Thos. to Anna -

Lat 3.05 N -

Long 24° 48'

done -

done

Copy

On board Ship Sutton at Sea
February 5th 1849
Latitude 3.05' N Longitude 24.48'

Dear Anna

The joyful sound of "Sail ho!" "They away?" "Over the Starboard bow" aroused me from my slumber. There was heard early this morning and indeed the old Sutton being fore Stem to Stem with delight while the merry sound of ~~the~~ ^{the} bells was heard forth its glad some notes over the tranquil waters. ^{illuminated by the} ~~The next morning~~ all was still as death except the occasional flapping of the sails. The eyes of all were instantly directed to a sunken spot upon the horizon which gradually increased in size as we drew near.
Presently conjectures were formed as to what nation the vessel belonged and where she could possibly be bound. The Captain ~~at~~ ^{at} ~~last~~ ^{last} settled all enquiries for the time being by saying it was an American probably to ~~Europe~~ ^{Europe} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~part~~ ^{part} ~~seemed~~ ^{seemed} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~confirm~~ ^{confirm} part of his belief. ~~The~~ ^{The} ~~stars~~ ^{stars} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~lights~~ ^{lights} ~~were~~ ^{were} ~~up~~ ^{up} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~the~~ ^{to} ~~point~~ ^{point} to the surprise of all the stranger displayed the Spanish flag.
She could not then have been ~~more~~ ^{more} ~~than~~ ^{than} ~~10~~ ¹⁰ ~~miles~~ ^{miles} presenting a most beautiful appearance as she sank and then rose again upon the billow. When we were sufficiently near both nearly here to ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~lowered~~ ^{lowered} ~~a~~ ^a ~~quarter~~ ^{quarter} ~~boat~~ ^{boat} ~~into~~ ^{into} ~~which~~ ^{which} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~captain~~ ^{captain} his brother (the young gentleman who sailed upon a morning or two before I left home) and myself with an other passenger jumped and were rowed along side of the Spaniard. The Captain hailed her in English "Hark a boy!" but it was of no use. I next hailed her in French and received in answer to my questions that she was the Bank ~~Maria~~ ^{Maria} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~Malaga~~ ^{Malaga} ~~bound~~ ^{bound} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~Spain~~ ^{Spain} ~~with~~ ^{with} ~~a~~ ^a ~~cargo~~ ^{cargo} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~fruit~~ ^{fruit} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~other~~ ^{other} ~~goods~~ ^{goods}. These preliminaries the Spanish captain having satisfied himself when we were from 10 to 15 partly invited us to come on board. So they we ~~was~~ ^{was} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~boat~~ ^{boat} and ~~having~~ ^{having} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~boat~~ ^{boat} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~charge~~ ⁱⁿ ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~men~~ ^{men}. I was obliged to act as interpreter for the whole party. You may conceive how I was kept very busy. Having accomplished a further invitation to

A. J.

February 9th 1849
Latitude 0° 11 N Longitude 24° 58' W

The Sea to day is almost perfectly calm nearly as smooth as a mirror and so it has been for the week past. As a natural consequence we have made little or no progress there being at times scarce a breath of air stirring. The log touches the Equator ^{on the 6th of Feb} ~~some time this afternoon~~. It was formerly the universal custom to christen all those who crossed the line for the first time. This manner of initiating ladies and gents as they are familiarly called in Seamen's language is very seldom resorted to now - ~~and~~ having fallen like many time honored customs into oblivion. The intention of the passengers was to have given Captain Neptun a worthy reception but the deck has been such an eventful one interest us from day to day we have had very little time to make the necessary preparations for welcoming him. This however shall not prevent us from standing at the gang-way to give him a loud hurrah as he rises from amidst the froth of the Sea and thales his hoary locks before stepping foot on the quarter deck. I suppose he will demand the first part of all that is aboard. With those who have not the necessary documents he will ~~be~~ ^{read} being a pretty generous kind of a fellow in this enlightened age ~~to compromise the matter~~ ^{to give} the way of a King or Queen. It would afford us infinite pleasure to ~~meet~~ ^{re-see} you the ~~bravely~~ ^{improvement} ~~dealing~~ incidents of the week had I an opportunity, but I must needs postpone them to some future time. (A vessel in sight is now bearing down upon us) In the course of an hour or so we may hope to have her. Must she may be bound to some port in the United States that she may have an opportunity of communicating with you and my dear friends once more How solicitous my mother must feel for me! I doubt not she offers up many a prayer for the protection and safe return of her absent son but none more fervent than those which emanate from your own dear lips! Pardon me for thus openly expressing the sentiments of my own heart. But I flatter myself you think of me sometimes - you happy & free. How frequently do my thoughts wander home and to you dear Anna. Reclining in a hammock, washed & and fro by the billows of the night deep with my eyes fixed upon the bright moon winding its way through the ethereal canopy of Heaven I console myself with the belief that possibly you may be gazing upon the same object sharing with me my griefs. This hymn will see, is a mixture of romance and poetry. It may be so but wear the lip true. Kindred hearts you know love to sympathize. Should we ever again we shall be permitted to mingle our happiness. Heaven bless we may. Your heart, always preferred no pleasure and now that I am deprived of it I feel almost desolate.

5th page

Can I forget you? No, Anna, never. You have made too vivid an impression upon me. (How grateful for ever presents itself to my mind. Indeed the only really pleasant hours I pass are those spent in thinking of you. Sometimes my imagination carries me so far as to fancy I hear your sweet, prattling voice asking some innocent question as you were wont to do. I seem to reply when suddenly the vision vanishes, leaving me to the reality of the sand. There are no empty words near Anna, but each and every one of them is intended to convey the exact meaning which it expresses. They are the effusions of a sincere heart that beats only for you. One thing alone makes me feel very unhappy. It is the uncertainty regarding our fate. Sometimes I am wicked enough, I must confess it though it gives you pain, to wish I had never seen you but this thought is always succeeded by some pleasing reminiscence which recalls you and all your actions to my mind, as vividly as ever. We may possibly never be bound by the holy ties of matrimony but still you will ever find in me a true and sincere friend. More than this I cannot ~~express~~ ^{express} ~~utter~~ ^{utter} the promise. My well known ~~present~~ ^{present} circumstances and the sentiment by which I am actuated. I have defined all clearly to you.
Should it not be deemed right folly for two beings situated as we are to think of forming an attachment for life when by both of us would be rendered miserable? The old proverb rather selfish of itself, says that "it is easier to feed one mouth than two". I assure of the principle that a man ought to be able to maintain a wife before he marries one. What my future circumstances may be I cannot tell. My prospects, it is true, are bright. I am embarked upon a long voyage to a remote part of our country where vast quantities of gold may be obtained if it is ~~not~~ ^{not} for the mere trouble of digging. I place some but not full reliance in this report. What truth there is really in it is yet to be seen. But I have not left home upon an uncertainty. Time and distance must necessa-rially separate us for a long period. Years may elapse before I shall again ~~be in my natal city~~ ^{have the pleasure of seeing my natal city and} the ~~friends~~ ^{friends} of my youth. The very thought makes me weep. Perhaps I may never again be permitted to return. I must however the time will not be prolonged beyond three years which seems only a little while to look back upon but an eternity to look forward to. Our attachment is of a short and rapid growth. Whether it will withstand the shock and separation of three years cannot be forgotten. Surely it might to be equal to the profusion of love we have mutually made. Engagements and foolish contracts particularly when the parties are to be separated for a long time This I told you upon parting and put the question directly to you deciding. You answered "rather there should be no engagement between us either expected or understood." This is as it should be and just as I wish it. First love is said to be most lasting. I am inclined to believe so but you are young and have arrived at that age particular age when a girl's mind is very unsettled. That you love me now dear Anna and with all the sincerity of heart that a creature is capable of loving I doubt not. But perhaps you may in my absence, not that I think you capable of the least inconstancy, become acquainted with some one ^{whom} you may esteem more worthy of your affection. To this I shall not object. You must not attribute ^{that} ~~what~~ ^{to} ~~colours~~ ^{indifference} I say so merely to caution you that I would not knowingly connect myself to a woman who loved an other man better than she did me. It is a matter of perfect indifference to me whether I marry a fortune provided I have a sufficiency of my own. I would never connect myself to a poor girl well educated and instructed in all that which adorns a woman than a fashionable young lady of the present day.

 I hope your mother will keep you at Miss Gurneys at least a year longer.
 During this time you must study hard and endeavor to learn all you can. ~~Make~~ ^{Acquaint} myself with every branch that should ^{constitute} ^{part of} the education of a young lady, both in literature and house keeping for I tell you very much depends upon these things you improve in these things I ^{when} ^{my} ^{return}. I am ~~sure~~ ^{and} ^{will} ^{indeed} ^{it} ^{will} ^{not} ~~fulfill~~ ^{the} ^{promise} ^I ^{made} ^{you} ^{as} ^{soon} ^{as} ^{it} ^{lies} ⁱⁿ ^{my} ^{power}. ~~But~~ ^{the} ^{much} ^{interested} ⁱⁿ ^{you} ~~and~~ ^{will} ^{through} ^I ^{now} ^{give} ^{you} ^a ^{more} ^{convincing} ^{proof} ^{of} ^{an} attachment. I would like to see you a well educated woman and that you may become such there is no doubt. You are naturally endowed with a good intellect and possess a very retaining memory. You have only to encourage and ^{to} ^{the} gifts which God has given you and there is ^{no} ^{question} but that you will become all that you I desire. I am demanding a great deal, but not more than I believe you are capable of performing. That ^{the} ^{motives} ^{than} ^{ambition} ^{and} ^{ambition} ~~is~~ ^{you} ^{certainly} ^{desire} ^{to} ^{improve} ^{yourself} ^{and} ^{to} ^{be} ^{useful} ^{to} ^{your} ^{country} do you suppose could induce me to mad

 the
 from and open tear be truly there best must time
 life had ever made when body like fair
 be man any
 I
 can am
 You
 It
 my way but top
 the do

