My dear Mrs. Whaley

I have received your letter & it would afford both Mrs. Kepl & myself great pleasure to aid you in finding a proper situation. We will enquire among our friends & do what we can. It is very difficult to find such a place in this city, as we are perfectly deluged with young ladies who have come out from the Normal Schools of New England. You must not be disappointed therefore if we do not succeed

I will put a notice on the next

Alas I do not hope you will recover all your time & mind & firmness if I could assist the ~~disturbance~~ to you. I do not doubt but measure your loss by my own, & even feel within me that you now or have in your short return of health you probably I would have that you would find hard to make to me.

Dear Willie: -

28 m after you were when I saw your chance,
I was at the office of "Noble Lang Payne"
It is not when you were, shall I say or you,
I saw you there paper: should have eyes,
I see you this trip, think of me -
I think kindly, as I shall of thee

The more of me we imagine for others,
We catch them like fishes in nets;
And sometimes the thing our life means Holds more than the thing which it gets.
For good little and in pursuing,
Has gaining of great men of small,
But quiet in the doing, and doing
As we would be done by, is all.

 Break thro' the darkest clouds that may surround them
 A happy heart will set thy spirits right -
 Think, hope, and pray - and light will shine

Or, should earth's hopes deceive, I mayst thou see Promise of peace thro' all eternity.

 So that its mighty length would reach, maybe,
 From California to the lake of Maine
 And stretch the earth in white from sea to sea - Even then its narrow breast could not contain

A wonderful thing is a seed
The one thing deathless forever
Plant lilies and lilies will bloom,
Plant roses and roses will grow,
Plant hate and hate to life will spring
Plant love and love to you will bring The fruit of the seed you sow.

Miss Phoebe:-

What: our journey in life you make,

For pleasure, duty or wealth,

Our luggage little or carriage great,

You will find it conducive to health,

If modesty be the path you take,

Or through sweet fields of love,

Timorously - what - evil may be your fate:-
