THE LAUREL SHIFTED

John L. Sullivan no Longer the Champion of the World.

His Colors Lowered by James Corbett, the Californian.

A Vicious Fight of Twenty-one Rounds at New Orleans.

Corbett Too Clever, Too Shifty, Too Watchful and Too Quick for His Stronger Opponent.

RING SIDE, OLYMPIC CLUB, NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—The excitement that has prevailed in this city has had no parallel since the Italian assassination, eighteen months ago. There has been no subject of conversation discussed in any quarter save the event of this evening, in which every portion of the civilized world was more or less deeply interested. It apparently affected the outside as deeply as it did the parties to the battle. Both men were known to be in prime condition, and the greatest fight of the series was looked forward to by all with keen anticipation.

THE GATHERING.

There was a universal move in the direction of the club even before evening began to fall. Business men, lawyers and journalists took their dinners down town and had their vehicles ordered

Frank Moran timekeeper. The gloves were weighed and found to be according to law, and they were given to the fighters.

LOOKED OUTCLASSED.

In the parley which was held in the center of the ring Corbett looked entirely outclassed in point of build, though his friends relied upon his cleverness to win the battle. The pivot blow and back heeling were barred by mutual consent, and the men agreeing to fight fair, were sent to the corners to get ready for the fray.

ROUND ONE.

The battle commenced at 9:10. Both men stepped lightly to the center of the ring. Sullivan immediately became the aggressor. He made a left lead and was stopped. Corbett danced all about his opponent, eyeing him closely. Sullivan made a rush but Jim backed away. He also attempted a left hander but Jim would not bite. Sullivan looked vicious as he played for an opening. He attempted a right-hand stomach punch, but the blow fell short. Sullivan tried to corner Jim, but the latter slipped away. The gong sounded and not a blow had been landed by either man.

ROUND TWO.

Sully was still the aggressor. Sully uppercut Jim and touched him again with his left hand a little later. Jim eyed his man closely, and when Sullivan would rush the Californian would slip away. Sullivan landed a heavy right on the shoulder, but received a stomach punch in return.

ROUND THREE.

Corbett ducked away from a heavy lunge. Sully followed him about the ring, trying for the stomach. Jim's head missed a heavy left-hander and Sully looked vicious. Jim landed two heavy stomach punches and Sully missed a vicious right; both hit each other on the head. Corbett stepped out of harm's way, but he came back quickly and landed his left on the stomach. He also planted a heavy blow on the champion's ear, sending his head back. Both men were fighting hard when the gong sounded. Sullivan was wringing wet with perspiration.

ROUND FOUR.

ROUND FIVE.

Sullivan stepped to the center with a smile and Corbett touched his nose with a left. The champion tried to land a left on the stomach, and the men clinched, Sully landing his first heavy right. Sullivan missed a fearful left hand and staggered forward from the force of the blow. The men boxed cautiously for an opening and the champion seemed eager for hot work. Twice he missed a right-hand swing. He followed the head in return. This was a great fight so far, and Corbett apparently had the admiration of the crowd, as he was doing most of the hitting. When the round closed Corbett was lustily cheered.

ROUND ELEVEN.

Both landed good blows and Sullivan got twisted round from the force of a left. Corbett showed great ability, even at clinching his more bulky opponent. Sullivan was extremely cautious, though he got a crushing blow on the nose. Jim tried to deliver a heavy right-hand blow and the champion was forced to the ropes to avoid it. Sullivan received a punch in the stomach from a left and got it again a moment later.

ROUND TWELVE.

Sullivan was the last to respond, and when he did he got a left in the stomach. He got it again very heavily and a repetition a moment later. Sullivan landed a fairly good blow with his right, though he got a left in the stomach in return. Jim landed another in return in the stomach, and ran away smiling. The Californian landed a good left on the head but the champion stopped a right with his shoulder. Sullivan made a vicious rush and Corbett slapped him in the stomach with his left. The champion's head was forced back twice from two left-handers and the round ended with both of Corbett's hands in Sullivan's stomach.

ROUND THIRTEEN.

Jim was first up again, dodging the usual left lead from the champion. He slipped away from a left a moment later and the men boxed scientifically for an opening. Sullivan could not draw his antagonist on with his left-hand feints. He barely touched his body with his left. The men's toes touched, they stood so close, and and Sully attempted to land his right. It was short, Corbett stepping away. Sullivan was now forcing matters, but carefully. He got a left on the nose that sent his head far back, though the champion landed light on the head.

ROUND FOURTEEN.

The Californian's stock was sky high, and he stepped up to his opponent, though he got a left on the nose for his pains. Both men landed good blows. Corbett landed a left and Sullivan a right. Both men got in heavy blows on the head, and Sullivan was pushed back with a left. Again both men got in good lefts, though the first blow was the heavier of the two. Jim landed on Sullivan's face and slipped away. Sullivan landed on the forehead, but in attempting to land a left he fell into his corner, Corbett standing closely to his man. Honors were easy.

ROUND FIFTEEN.

Jim was first to the center. Sullivan made his famous rush and forced his man all over the ring, though he was nearly knocked down with a right. The men clinched and were separated, Sullivan receiving a right on the ear. He landed a left on Jim's nose, but his stomach was uncovered and he received a heavy blow. Jim landed his usual left on the head but he got a right on the body in return. Both men landed lefts treminly cautious, although he got four heavy rights on the face. This was all Corbett's round.

ROUND NINETEEN.

Both men were quick to respond. They boxed cautiously. Sullivan landed and Jim retaliated on the stomach and stepped away from a heavy right. The champion looked tired. Sullivan's left was continually in motion seemingly. The Californian looked too clever for him and he laughed sarcastically at the champion as he leisurely waited for an opening. Corbett landed two quick lefts in the stomach. Sullivan lost his temper from a staggering right and rushed at his opponent, but looked like a beaten man.

ROUND TWENTY.

Sullivan looked tired and his left was very short. He bowed hard and seemed very cautious, but he was the same resolute, ferocious man as of yore. Both exchanged rights and Sullivan was nearly knocked down with a left on the stomach and a right on the head. Corbett was dead game and unhurt so far. Sullivan tried his right and received five clips on the head and stomach. The champion's knees were shaking and he seemed unable to defend himself. Sullivan was fought to the ropes with heavy rights and lefts and the gong seemed his only safety.

ROUND TWENTY-ONE.

Corbett was first to respond to time. Sullivan's left lead was now very weak and he seemed anxious to wait. His opponent was with him, however, and the champion received a left on the nose. Sullivan was trying for a right, though he made little attempt to send it home. Sullivan was bent down with heavy rights and lefts, falling to the ground. He attempted to rise and fight, but nature gave way and he fell and was counted out and Corbett was proclaimed champion of America by Referee Duffy.

CORBETT KISSES HIS FRIENDS.

The ovation Corbett received was something tremendous and he walked around the ring kissing and hugging his friends. Sullivan made a speech in the center of the ring saying: "I've met a giant. I've stayed once too long. I'm glad he's an American. That's all I've got to say."

THE NEWS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—San Francisco went wild tonight over Corbett's victory. Thousands of people congregated in front of the newspaper offices, where bulletins were displayed and as the progress of the fight was outlined, showing Corbett's superiority, the crowd cheered lustily. The newspapers issued special editions which were sold as fast as they could be printed.

At Harry Corbett's pool room and saloon on Ellis street there was an immense crowd. When Jim's victory was announced Harry opened champagne with a lavish hand. He claims to have won $10,000 on the fight. A special wire to Corbett's father's house on Hayes street and his parents received a report of the fight as it progressed. They were greatly elated, but say they wish Jim had not boarded the ship.

NANCY HANKS.

She Succeeds in Lowering the Mile Regulation Record.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 7.—Nancy Hanks has again broken the world's trotting record on a regulation track. It was a wonderful and unexpected performance. Previous to the event bets were freely made that Nancy could not do better than 2:10. The track was a regulation one, like that on which she trotted at Chicago. The day was a beautiful one, and it is estimated that 60,000 people were present.

The mare came out at 3:45, driven by Doble, and was greeted with deafening applause. The first start was a false one, but the second time she got off well, and under the quarter in 32½. Steadily she flew around the turn and reached the half in 1:03½. Doble driving well, Nancy reaches the three-quarter in 1:31½, and comes on at a rattling gait. She is steady and acting nobly.

As she enters the stretch there is scarcely a movement or sound in the vast crowd. The beautiful mare approaches the stand with the prettiest gait imaginable. Doble is leaning forward and giving free rein. Like the wind she comes down the stretch and just as she reaches the wire turns her pretty head toward the grand stand as if conscious that she has broken the world's record. The crowd waited impatiently and when the card was put out, reading 2:07, excitement knew no bounds. Doble was carried to the stand on the shoulders of the crowd.

THE SCARE DYING OUT.

LESS FEAR OF THE SPREAD OF CHOLERA IN NEW YORK.

Three More Vessels Arrive and Report all Well—A Few New Cases—Release From Quarantine.

QUARANTINE, S. I., Sept. 7.—This afternoon Dr. Depew, on the City of New York, sent his compliments to Dr. Jenkins and regretted that the health officer had not been able to board the Inman liner in person. Dr. Jenkins replied by the following message: "Present my compliments to Dr. Depew and my regrets that I must detain him and his ship until tomorrow at least." The vessel, which arrived this morning, had on board 102 cabin and 465 steerage. They were all in good health. On the City of New York there were 627 first cabin, 183 second, and 427 steerage passengers. They, too, are all well.

Secretary Foster came down the bay on the revenue cutter Grant to meet his wife, who is on the City of New York. The Grant steamed alongside the City of New York and Mr. Foster held a conversation with his wife from the deck, but did not board the ship.

THE QUAKER POET

Whittier Passes Away at Hurton Falls.

More Than Four Score Years of a Useful Life.

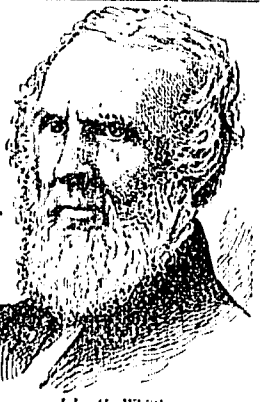

The End Peaceful Like One Falling to Sleep.

Funeral Arrangements for Saturday—The Life and Labor of the Literary Man.

HURTON FALLS, Sept. 7.—John G. Whittier, the poet, died at 4:30 o'clock this morning, passing away peacefully, his nearest relatives and Dr. Douglass were at the bedside when death came, and he seemed conscious of his surroundings to the last.

The last conscious utterance of the poet was one of recognition of his niece, Mrs. Samuel L. Pickard, who lived with him some years previous to her marriage. The end was peaceful, and apparently painless, like one falling asleep. A fitting close for such a life. The body has been taken to his home in Amesbury, and the funeral will be held on Saturday, from the late residence in French street, the house in which many of his best poems were written.

The body will rest in the Friends' cemetery. In the family plot, where his parents, uncle, aunt, sister and brother, and thus will the family be again united here, as well as in the land of rest.

John G. Whittier.

John Greenleaf Whittier was born at Haverhill, Mass., December 17, 1807, and was therefore 84 years, 8 months and 20 days of age at the time of his death.

early. They were willing to wait at the club, but they were unwilling to waste time going down. At 6 o'clock carriages were already heading down Canal street, which was crowded with people and vehicles, and down the intersecting streets came carriages moving to the scene of the battle.

THE GREAT CROWD.

Down in the neighborhood of the club, for blocks and blocks, carriages were strung among the curbstone, and every street corner had a crowd, betting closed in the poolrooms at 1 to 3 against Corbett. No betting was allowed at the club house.

THE SULLIVAN PARTY.

The Sullivan people came to the club first. They took a carriage at the hotel before 7 and drove leisurely down with a string of hacks. Sullivan looked strong and determined. He walked with a jaunty air, and came in so easy with the line of people entering at the time that few noticed him.

CORBETT ARRIVES.

Big Jim Corbett followed in the wake of the champion, coming in fifteen minutes later. When his party pulled up in front of the door, the street was cleared and an avenue opened into the building. Corbett came in first with a light step and a face wreathed in smiles.

THE PRELIMINARIES.

The first sign of the contest for the championship of America, came in the person of Police Captain Barrett, who went into the ring at five minutes to 9 o'clock. The rules on which the gloves were to be weighed were laid beside the center of a post. Ex-Mayor Guillot, who acted as master of ceremonies, entered the arena a few minutes later and made a speech, warning the spectators to be careful not to violate any of the rules of the club. Sullivan weighed 212 and Corbett 189. Fully 9,000 were in attendance, and chose the corner occupied by McAuliffe and Dixon, and Sullivan was given the corner occupied by Jack Dempsey, Peter Maher, Billy Meyer and Jack Skelly, the defeated men in each case.

THE MEN ENTER THE RING.

Sullivan entered the ring first, dressed in green frunks and black shoes and stockings. He looked in perfect condition. Corbett followed a moment later, looking pale and firmly drawn beside his bulky antagonist. He wore an air of confidence, however, and smiled and nodded to acquaintances around the ring, though he was said by some people to be a little nervous. Both were greatly cheered.

A PRESENT.

Police Captain Barrett stepped to the center of the ring and presented Prof. John Dooly with a beautiful silver punch bowl and ladle. John Doolan and Billy Delaney were announced as Corbett's seconds with Johnston and Jack McAuliffe were seconds for Sullivan and

The fight was fast and furious and Sullivan nearly fell on the ropes from left-hand jabs on the head. Corbett was foxy. He avoided punishment easily and landed six vicious blows in Sullivan's face. As the round ended, Corbett landed a heavy right on the champion's head. Corbett had the best of the round and Sullivan's face was covered with blood.

ROUND SIX.

Both men landed light lefts, and Sullivan's nose began bleeding again. The champion was beginning to look tired, for he missed his right, aimed for the jaw. Corbett took plenty of time and used the entire ring to manoeuvre in. He landed a light stomach punch and hit the champion in the face. A little later there was a heavy exchange of lefts on the head. Sullivan seemed angry and slapped his opponent with his left hand. Corbett landed with blows on the head and ran away. The men were in the center of the ring, and it began to look as though some of the fight was out of Sullivan. Jim landed a heavy left on Sullivan's head and the champion went to his corner looking tired.

ROUND SEVEN.

Corbett walked right up to Sullivan and barely avoided a left hand punch. The champion was trying hardest for a right on the jaw but foxy Corbett was not there. The champion landed two light blows on the head and Corbett sent in a hot shot from his left. He jabbed Sullivan continually on the nose in this round and blood flowed freely. Jim was cheered to the echo for his skillful fighting. Sullivan was forced on the ropes by a heavy right on the jaw and as the going sounded he received a heavy left on the jaw.

ROUND EIGHT.

Sullivan landed a light left on the stomach and received a left on the mouth. Jim was now the aggressor. Sullivan hit Corbett in the clinch and the audience yelled "foul." Both exchanged heavy lefts but Jim's head missed a mighty right. Jim barely escaped a right and sent a left in the champion's stomach, forcing him to the ropes. Jim landed a heavy left on the mouth, which brought blood and a smile from the champion. Sullivan looked very tired.

ROUND NINE.

Sullivan was puffing and both exchanged good lefts. Sullivan received a light moon on the ear and got another on the nose, but evened up matters a little with his right. Jim landed a heavy left on the nose and both men hugged each other in a clinch. Sullivan was missing many blows now, though when he did land it was twice as heavy as his antagonist's blows. Jim had all the best of Sullivan.

ROUND TEN.

Sullivan attempted to land a left but the blow fell short. He followed his opponent, however, and both exchanged lefts. Corbett's right found the champion's head and his left got there a moment later, but the champion landed on

Jim, a heavy stomach punch as the round ended.

ROUND SIXTEEN.

The round commenced with a rally. Sullivan received a left on his dial; he attempted a left lead for the head, but Jim saved himself by pulling away. The champion's head was pulled back once more. Sullivan landed heavy on the nose and stomach a moment later. Jim looked very fresh as he punched the champion in the head and stomach. Sullivan received two good punches and Jim clinched during the lock. Sullivan hit his opponent and the audience yelled "foul," though Corbett refused to have the victory that way.

ROUND SEVENTEEN.

Jim was first up, and looking none the worse for wear. Sullivan landed a good left, though his right for the body was short. Sullivan was breathing hard. Jim neatly avoided a left for the face, but sent his own fist home a moment later on Sullivan's head. Sullivan's face was very red. He received a left-hand swing in the stomach for coming too close. Both exchanged light lefts, and boxed for an opening for the right. There was no severe punishment in this round.

ROUND EIGHTEEN.

Jim was, as usual, first to respond. A beautiful rally took place in the center of the ring. Jim landed two stomach punches, but got two light punches on the head. A fearful left-hand jab on the nose was presented to John, and he got a hot one on the head for being too familiar. Jim's left found the champion's stomach and face and also his head. Later John landed a right punch on the ribs that sounded all over the house, though he got a left swing in the stomach a moment later. Sullivan was ex-

McKELLAR'S MURDERERS.

After a lengthy trial they are shot at Santa Rosa, Mexico.

SANTA ROSA, Mexico, Sept. 7.—Manuel Villareal and Juan Soto, the murderers of James McKellar, the wealthy English ranchman of this city, were shot yesterday by the local authorities, after a lengthy trial. Villareal was one of the most prominent and wealthy Mexicans of this part of the country. He owned nearly 100,000 acres of land adjoining the tract belonging to McKellar. The latter refused to pasture Villareal's cattle and excluded the animals from his ranch by putting a wire fence around it. Villareal, in order to get even, hired Soto to waylay and kill McKellar, which was done a few months ago. The murder created a most profound sensation throughout Mexico, and so great was the feeling aroused that the foreign colony appealed to the representatives of their respective governments for protection.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Sept. 7.—The lumber yards of the Little Kanawha company at New Boston were partially destroyed by fire this afternoon. Loss, $250,000; partially insured.

Jenkins, passengers of La Bourgeoisne will probably be released tomorrow morning, and possibly the ship also. The Anchor line steamer Elysia was released.

Mr. Jenkins this evening wrote to the secretary of the treasury calling attention to the hardships of detaining the cabin passengers of incoming steamers upon overcrowded vessels, which were infected or sailed from infected ports, and stating that it was extremely important that prompt provision be made for the removal of these passengers to a suitable locality. He decided that the most suitable locality is Fire Island, where hotel accommodations exist for at least a thousand persons, with space for a large number in tents or temporary barracks, and he requests that he be given immediate possession of the island for the purpose named.

A letter is published this evening from one of the lady passengers on the Normania, complaining about being shut up and speaking bitterly of the way the steamship company is neglecting them. "All would be patient," she says, "could they feel that any wise care was being exercised, and could they be removed from the crew and stokers, the only people inclined to any kind of illness. The captain has no control over the crew and the stokers. Their wages had to be guaranteed by the passengers or they would not work since their engagements with the company were over on their arrival on this side.

The new cases of cholera today are as follows: On board the Normania eight, Max Gorman, aged 24; Stanislaus Knaus, aged 26; Richard Fincher, aged 24; Franz Gent, aged 31; Emil Petri, aged 21; Julius Solur, aged 30; Wilhelm Kemmerer, aged 20; Karl Berndt, aged 24. Will Protest.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 7.—The dominion government has called a vigorous protest to the imperial government against the recent seizure of three Canadian sealers by a Russian gun boat in the Behring sea. Unless prompt redress is furnished, it will be difficult to tell where the matter will end. The report received by the dominion authorities yesterday, show that five Canadians were treated in a harsh and high-handed manner by the Russians, and robbed of their personal property.

His poems are to be found in every household and he has come to be loved by every lover of American poetry.

A TICKET COMPLETED.

THE DEMOCRATS MAKE "NO MISTAKE" IN THEIR BALLOTING.

No Attempt Yesterday to Stiff the Ballot Box. Apparent Harmony in the Opposition Camp—The Names of Democratic Nominees.

The motto "Harmony," with the big H, on the score board at the first day's session of the county Democratic convention had given place to "No mistake." Everybody thought it meant to make no mistake (?) in the number of ballots each delegate dropped in the box, this "mistake" having occurred at the previous day's session. However, Dick Goodbody announced that it meant for the convention to make no mistake in the nominees. This construction was accepted.

When the convention adjourned Tuesday night the sixth ballot had been taken for sheriff as follows:

McDowell	56
Holcomb	41
Hill	12
Price	15

Late Tuesday night a Union reporter asked a delegate "Which is it going to be, Holcomb or McDowell?"

"Neither," replied the delegate. "You will hear something drop after the first ballot in the morning."

YESTERDAY'S SESSION.

The delegates were nearly all in their seats when Chairman Trippet rapped for order. No time was lost in taking a ballot with the following result:

McDowell	51
Holcomb	54
Hill	6
Price	29

It looked to some like a deadlock, or Hill, and in the interest of that obliterated motto, or possibly the city, L. L. Boone tried to place in nomination Alderman S. J. Hill. The mention of Mr. Hill's name created great enthusiasm, and it looked like a stampede to the dark house. However, there were some mighty long-headed old fellows among the county delegates and men who had "been there before."

After a few of them had spoken their minds about the city trying to "head off" a country candidate, Mr. Montgomery of Olney arose calmly in his place bringing up a point of order with him. He called the attention of the chair to the fact that by resolution of the day previous the nominations for the office of sheriff had been closed.

Mr. Dooley claimed attention, thanked his friends for their support and withdrew his name.

The friends of the remaining candidates cheered wildly. Each one thought he was in it.

While the yelling was going on Jim Duffy managed to make himself heard long enough to withdraw the name of S. A. McDowell. Continued surprise.

Then Mr. Hill withdrew his name, saying it had been presented without his consent. There was not much surprise there.

The eighth ballot resulted in the nomination of Ben P. Hill, he having received 80 1/2 votes to 58 1/2 for Mr. Stice.

On motion of the other candidates Mr. Hill's nomination was made unanimous.

COUNTY CLERK.

There was but one candidate for the office of county clerk, Will H. Holcomb, and on motion of A. H. Sweet the nomination of Mr. Holcomb was made by acclamation.

CORONER.

Dr. C. G. Valle and Dr. C. C. Churchill were candidates for coroner, Oscar Hinters having withdrawn from the race. Dr. Churchill was nominated by a vote of 81 to 49 for Dr. Valle.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS.

The convention then adjourned to nominate city justice and township officers.

Judge M. L. Rawson was nominated for city justice by acclamation.

For township justice there were two candidates, N. S. Hammack and C. Goeppe. Mr. Hammack was nominated by a vote of 30 1/2 to 23 1/2.

There were three candidates for constables, J. V. Hicks, Herman Marks and H. K. Coon. The ballot was as follows:

Herman Marks	49
H. K. Coon	43
J. V. Hicks	19

Messrs. Marks and Coon were declared the nominees.

THE OUT TOWNSHIPS.

Out township nominees were reported as follows:

Coronado—G. W. Yarnum, justice; A. P. Reynolds, constable.

San Jacinto—H. A. Clark and W. H. Clark, justices; R. M. McKim and J. H. Stephenson, constables.

Elmore—J. F. Jones, justice; A. G. Kuck, constable.

Tecoma—Joseph Wely, justice; Adolph Kolb, constable.

Encinitas—John Thompson, constable.

Capitan Grande—M. J. Tracy, justice; J. W. Swoyer, constable.

National—G. W. Deermaker, justice; J. J. Beatty, constable.

Mesa Grande—A. C. Morgan, justice; Gail H. Lewis and Adolph L. Wood, constables.

El Cajon—Ed Gill and T. J. Cox, justices; Michael Firm, constable.

Murrieta—Henry Zimmermann, justice; S. F. Cornell, constable.

ASSEMBLYMAN.

J. W. Nance of Ferris was nominated for assemblyman from the Eightieth district by acclamation, and with great enthusiasm. T. W. Hudson was named but refused to be a candidate and suggested the name of Mr. Fox of Murrieta, that gentleman also refused and the nomination of Mr. Nance followed.

STATE SENATOR.

S. S. Knoles was declared the nominee for state senator by acclamation, on motion of D. M. Hammack.

A resolution was introduced by A. McCrimmon, that it was the sense of the convention that non-bearing fruit trees and vines should not be taxed.

Dr. Good objected on the ground that it savored of class legislation, but the resolution was adopted by a storm of applause.

After passing resolutions thanking the chair and other officers the convention adjourned with three cheers for the entire ticket from Grover Cleveland to constables.

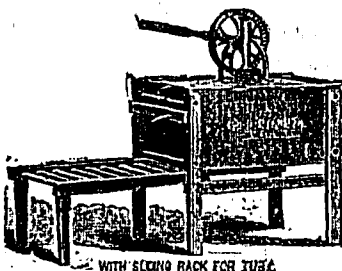

THE AFRO-AMERICANS.

They Endorse Congressman Bowers and the Republican Party.

The Afro-American league held an enthusiastic meeting last night in Judge Dudley's court room. The attendance was large. F. F. McFarland, as a member of the league, was elected to fill the position of assistant secretary of the Republican county central committee.

The following resolution, offered by S. A. McFarland, was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Hon. W. W. Bowers has represented his district with entire satisfaction to his constituents; and, Whereas, He has acted and voted with the majority of the party during the

GREAT REDUCTIONS

IN RATES, BEGINNING APRIL 15,

ARE OFFERED AT THE

TEL DEL CORONADO,

There was but one candidate for the office of county clerk, Will H. Holcomb, and on motion of A. H. Sweet the nomination of Mr. Holcomb was made by acclamation.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

There were two candidates for district attorney, Gen. Jones, the incumbent, and William Darby.

L. L. Boone wanted Darby on behalf of "nine-tenths of the Democratic attorneys of the city," but the country delegates were not making out a ticket for "Democratic lawyers," and so they nominated Gen. Jones by a vote of 19 to 45.

Gen. Jones was called to the stage, and spoke briefly but eloquently, thanking the Democrats for the evidence of their confidence and the endorsement of his administration.

A. H. Sweet secured the attention of the chair, and announced that there was a vacancy in the office of sheriff "not caused by death or resignation, but by order of the court."

A resolution was adopted requesting the supervisors to appoint the nominee of the convention, Gen. P. Hill, to the vacancy, pledging the honor of the convention that he would conduct the office for the salary, and without assistance from the board of supervisors.

Chalmers Scott, S. A. McDowell and E. Weideman were appointed as ambassadors, and after being shirived by the chair, departed on their mission.

The convention then resumed the regular order of business, and nominated John P. Hurt for recorder and J. C. Crenshaw for auditor by acclamation.

At this time the ambassadors returned safely from their visit to the supervisors, and reported that they found several names before the board among whom was that of Mr. McDowell, and that he declined to serve on the committee.

J. W. Nance stated that Mr. Hill informed him that he would not accept the appointment if tendered, as he desired a "fair field and no favors."

The name of S. A. McDowell was then substituted for that of Mr. Hill and the petition signed by all the delegates.

THE AGENDA.

There were two candidates for treasurer, Lynn Boyd and Charles D. Long. Mr. Long was nominated by a vote of 110 to 37.

For tax collector, George S. Pidgeon was nominated by acclamation.

For county surveyor E. M. Capps was, on motion of A. McGrimmon, declared the nominee by acclamation.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION.

There were three candidates for public administrator, H. A. Jerrault, T. J. Dowell and F. M. Moore. The ballot resulted as follows:

Jerrault	23
Dowell	34
Moore	26

T. J. Dowell was declared the nominee.

NOT IN IT.

At this moment the committee returned from the board of supervisors and reported that Mr. McDowell was not in it. A. K. Cravath having been appointed sheriff; that it was evident that the appointment had been cut, dried and cooked for some time.

WHENAS, The Hon. W. V. Bowers has represented his district with entire satisfaction to his constituents; and WHEREAS, He has acted and voted with the Republican party during his term of office; and WHEREAS, We believe the Republican party to be the true friend of the Afro-American; therefore, be it Resolved, That we heartily endorse the course of Mr. Bowers in congress and pledge him our hearty support for reelection. Speeches were made by S. A. McFarland, C. McGuire and others.

Pimples

The old idea of 49 years ago was that facial eruptions were due to a "blood humor," for which they gave potash. Thus all the old sarsaparillas contain potash, a nauseating mineral, that instead of decreasing, actually creates more eruptions. We have noticed this when taking other Sarsaparillas than Joy's. It is however now known that the stomach, the blood excreting power, is the seat of all vitalizing or cleansing operations. A stomach clogged by indigestion or constipation, vitiates the blood, result pimples. A clean stomach and healthful digestion purifies it and they disappear. Thus Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is compounded after the modern idea to regulate the bowels and stimulate the digestion. The effect is immediate and satisfactory. A short testimony to contrast the action of the potash Sarsaparillas with Joy's modern vegetable preparation. Era C. D. Stuart, of 400 Hayes St., B. F., writes: "I have for years had indigestion. I tried a popular Sarsaparilla but it actually caused more pimples to break out on my face. Hearing that Joy's was a later preparation and acted differently I tried it, and the pimples immediately disappeared."

PURCHASABLE VOTERS.

As illustrating the extent to which dishonest political methods have been carried in this country, the article of Professor J. J. McCook in the September Forum is worthy of a careful reading. Some months ago Professor McCook began to make an investigation to ascertain the proportion of venal voters in Connecticut and the causes of venality. He reported his initial studies to the Hartford board of trade, which attracted attention in every part of the country. In his article above referred to, he says that out of several thousand voters, taken not far from equally from the city and country in Connecticut, 113 out of every 1,000 were venal. And of these venal, 550 in every (assumed) thousand were of American stock; 173 Irish of the second generation, 130 Irish born; 28 Germans second generation, 53 German born; 3 are English second generation, 0 English born; 0 Scotch second generation, 3 Scotch born; 0 colored; 0 French Canadian second generation, 0 French Canadian first generation, and 6 of other foreign birth. It further appears that out of every (assumed) thousand of intemperate voters, 540 were venal; in every thousand drunkards, 700 were venal; in every thousand shiftless, all were venal; in every thousand total abstainers 342 were venal; while in every thousand temperate voters, 45 only were venal. This latter is, again, a case where the actual numbers represented on the side of the total abstainers may be so small as to give misleading percentages. The final fact is, however, liable to no such correction. Out of every thousand voters known to have been arrested or imprisoned—chiefly for drunkenness and its attendant crimes—seven hundred and seventy-eight were venal. The decaying towns have more venality than the others, and the prices range higher. "There are wars in every city and districts in every growing town," says Prof. McCook, "where there is as much or nearly as much corruption as in any of the country towns. But in general I think it will be found that where the soil is poorest, money most rare, the conditions of life least favorable to enterprise and mental activity, there is more bribery—and this in spite of the fact that there is more drunkenness, though perhaps not more intemperance, in the city. Still, we are here, as everywhere, reminded that the offense is individual and follows the laws of all disease in respect to contact and infection. The average health of a city or town may be high, while that of particular neighborhoods in it is low. These investigations establish the percentage of the venal for twenty-one Connecticut towns, including one city, at 15.9. Since the proportion between the city and the country is as may be that of the whole state, it follows that we have here a basis for an estimate of the aggregate of venality in the state. If we take, for instance, there are

Coronado notes
General news.

The vigorous letter just published shows that Ex-Secretary Blaine, though physically unable to take an active part in the campaign, is not sulking in his tent at Har Harbor. He is as much interested in the welfare of the country and the success of his party as when in office. His forcible presentation of the protection, reciprocity and financial questions from the Republican standpoint should exert a decided effect upon the approaching state and national elections.

The death of John G. Whittier yesterday will cause deep sorrow wherever the English language is spoken. His efforts in behalf of humanity will not be forgotten so long as it is remembered that there was a time when slavery existed on American soil. A lover of freedom, he could not believe that liberty was less dear to a man because his skin was black, than to his imperious master. He was always to be found on the side of right, even when it was unpopular to be there. True as steel, he had no compromise to make with wrongdoing. His poetry was valued more for its purity of motive than for its literary finish. He spoke from the heart rather than from the head.

THE UNEXPIRED TERM.

It was generally supposed that the board of supervisors would appoint the Republican nominee to fill out the unexpired term of Sheriff Folks should he be removed, but opinion was divided as to the advisability of doing so. Some of Mr. Russell's friends were disposed to think that unfavorable criticism would follow in case of his appointment should he in the course of the campaign devote much time to looking after his personal canvass. These fears were undoubtedly uncalled for, but they were openly expressed, even by men who as delegates to the recent Republican convention had voted for Mr. Russell. This undercurrent of opinion was probably the cause of the appointment of A. K. Cravath instead of Mr. Russell. Mr. Cravath is a man whose character is above reproach, and he will honestly administer the duties of sheriff during the remaining months of Mr. Folks' term. It is safe to say, also, that he will do all that is in his power to insure the election of Mr. Russell in November. The nomination of Mr. Russell was pleasing to the party and his friends will rally to his support on election day.

as may be that of the whole state, it follows that we have here a basis for an estimate of the aggregate of venality in the entire state. If this be so, there are 20,894 purchasable voters in Connecticut. I am in no position to affirm the absolute accuracy of this estimate, simply because my facts are only from one-eighth of the towns in three of the eight counties. But if analysis of samples taken without selection from the whole is ever conclusive concerning the entire mass, I see not why this may not be called a fairly reliable estimate. And surely twenty thousand would allow a sufficiently wide margin for possible error."

REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

The result of the Vermont election is very encouraging to the Republican party. A victory was, of course, fully assured and material gains were anticipated, but, as the returns come in, the majority swells even higher than was anticipated. Democratic newspapers may take what comfort they can in the hackneyed assertion that the "Dutch have taken Holland," but the glorious victory in Vermont, albeit that it is a Republican state, shows that there are more Dutchmen in Holland than ever before. Next Tuesday the old state of Maine will come to the front with a rousing Republican majority. The success of a protective policy and the benefits already obtained by the reciprocity treaty, negotiated by a Republican administration, tend to greatly increase the majority in Republican states. The party has been weighed in the balance and not found wanting. Honest voters recognize that fact and will give it unqualified endorsement at the polls.

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE.

A correspondent of THE UNION, taking a view similar to that expressed editorially in this paper yesterday, says of the Democratic county convention: "Special attention is called to the evidence given in this morning's Union of how true the Democrats are to their principles? When 149½ ballots were found in the ballot box yesterday and only 147 delegates to vote, comment on corruption is unnecessary." The devil, when passing as an angel of light, is always very hearty in his denunciation of evil, but catch him unaware and the cloven hoof will stick out. The Democracy at the ballot box and the Democracy on the rostrum is another example of the famous Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, the duplex hero of Robert Louis Stevenson's romance by the same name.

THE WATER CONTRACT.

Differences of the Water Company and Flume Company in Court.

The suit of the San Diego Water company against the San Diego Flume company, an action brought to enjoin the defendant from shutting off the water from the city, was being tried yesterday before Judge Torrance.

The case involves the validity of a contract entered into between the water company and the flume company by which the former was appointed agent for the latter for the term of twenty years to sell the water of the flume company within the city limits.

Under this contract of agency the water company claiming to act as the agent of the flume company entered into a contract by which it leased to the city its own water plant for twenty years and sold to the city for the same length of time 3,000,000 gallons of water per day.

The flume company alleges that all of the claims were void, and the question as to their validity constitutes the real matter in controversy between the parties. Works & Works are for the prosecution and V. E. Shaw, F. W. Britt and W. J. Hunsaker for the defense.

When the trial commenced yesterday morning, Judge Works called L. F. Doolittle, secretary of the water company, to the witness stand; but the defense objected to his testifying on the ground that all the contracts were invalid and for that reason there was no cause of action stated in the complaint. This objection raised the question as to the validity of all the contracts and the arguments will probably last two or three days.

AT MUNGER'S STATION.

The Patients Convalescent—Humor of Smallpox at Tia Juana.

A telephone message was received yesterday afternoon by Supervisor J. S. Buck from the quarantine doctor at Munger's station that all the members of the Lake family had recovered from the effects of smallpox, and that the quarantine had been raised from the house; also that the Munger family would in a few days be so there would be no danger of anyone catching the dread disease from those who have recovered.

The doctor informed Mr. Buck that a rumor was gaining circulation at Chula Vista to the effect that a case of smallpox had made its appearance at Tia Juana. The matter was at once presented to the board of supervisors by Chairman Buck, and an order was issued directing the county physician to proceed without delay to Tia Juana and make a thorough investigation.

A NEW TRIAL DENIED.

JUDGMENT OF REMOVAL FROM OFFICE OF SHERIFF FOLKE PRONOUNCED.

Outline of the Opinion of Judge Paterbaugh in Denying the Motion for a New Trial—A. K. Cravath Appointed to Fill the Vacancy.

Yesterday morning shortly after 9 o'clock, when Judge Paterbaugh took his seat on the bench in department two of the superior court, a number of persons were in the room anxious to hear how the court would rule on the defendant's motion for a new trial in the case of the people vs Folke.

The judge announced that the first business was the matter of a motion for a new trial in the case of John H. Folke, convicted of misconduct in office, and at once proceeded to review the testimony furnished at the examination, and to set forth the peculiar circumstances surrounding the case. He was of the opinion that there were no grounds for a change of venue, and that the court did not err in denying the motion of the defense. He thought the jury was a fair body of men, and perfectly fitted to pass on the case. The only serious matter he could see in regard to the jury, was that some of those summoned to serve were members of the Taxpayer's union. At the time of empaneling the jury, however, those who were active members of the association and were present when matters pertaining to alleged corruption were discussed at the meeting of the union, were promptly excused from serving on the jury; but those who had simply paid their $1 into the treasury and had taken no active part in the affairs of the organization were permitted to remain on the jury.

He said he had had a thorough examination of the authorities bearing on the case and should hate to do what was contrary to the law. If there was anything that constituted a ground for a new trial, it was the evidence. The proving of the existence of a contract between the San Publishing company and Sheriff Folke had failed entirely. The book introduced in evidence, however, showed that the sheriff received 30 per cent. of the amounts to which the paper was entitled for publishing official advertisements.

The fact, he said, that the sheriff was on the stand and did not admit or deny that he had received commissions was the main point in the evidence and the one, if any, that would justify him in denying a new trial. He should have explained the matter. The court in closing stated that he believed the verdict of the jury was sustained by the evidence, and he therefore denied the motion for a new trial.

The following is the judgment: In the superior court of the county of San Diego, state of California. The people of the state of California, plaintiff, vs. John H. Folke, sheriff of the county of San Diego, defendant. Judgment.

This cause having been submitted to a jury for trial and a verdict of guilty having been returned, and this time having been appointed by the court for pronouncing judgment, now, therefore, I, the undersigned judge of the said court, do hereby remove from the office of sheriff of the county of San Diego, the said John H. Folke, and appoint A. K. Cravath to fill the vacancy.

THE SUPERVISORS.

They Act Upon Petitions Relative to an Appointment.

The board met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Present: Supervisors J. H. Woolman, John Judson, Chester Gunn, J. P. M. Rainbow and Clerk C. W. Thompson. Absent, Chairman J. S. Buck.

On motion, Supervisor Woolman was appointed chairman pro tem.

Permission was granted John G. Downey to erect a T. L. Johnson-patent gate across the county road on the northwestern boundary of the Warner ranch, being the road from Temecula to the ranch house via Oak Grove; said gate to be subject to removal at any time on order of the board of supervisors.

At 10:15 Chairman Buck was present. The following resolution of the Republican county central committee was received and taken under advisement:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the Republican county central committee that in the event of a vacancy in the office of sheriff, that such vacancy should be filled by the appointment of the nominee of the Republican county convention, and we respectfully urge such appointment."

A large portion of the forenoon session was consumed in auditing hospital claims.

A certified copy of judgment of the superior court of removal in the case of the People of the State of California, plaintiff vs. John H. Folke, Sheriff of the County of San Diego, defendant, was received and filed.

A resolution of the Democratic party of San Diego county in convention assembled, as to the vacancy in the office of sheriff, caused by the removal of John Folke, was received and placed on file.

It appearing to the board from the certified copy of the judgment of the superior court on file, that John H. Folke had been removed from the office of sheriff of San Diego county, and that the vacancy should be filled at once, it was ordered that the following petitions filed be considered: William S. Pomeroy et al., Charles L. Eley, et al., and A. D. Stewart et al. for the appointment of A. K. Cravath; Eli H. Murray et al. and A. W. Jewell et al. for the appointment of James Russell; W. Llewellyn et al. for the appointment of James Duffy; Oscar Tripp et al. for the appointment of S. A. McDowell.

The result of the ballot was as follows: A. K. Cravath, 3 votes; James Russell, 2 votes.

Upon the announcement of the result it was ordered that A. K. Cravath be appointed as sheriff of San Diego county, vice John H. Folke, removed. Board adjourned till this morning at 9 o'clock.

of the county of San Diego in accordance with the verdict of the jury, and on the following ground, namely: Willful misconduct in office as said sheriff, in knowingly and willfully collecting and receiving as costs for printing legal notices, required to be published by him in the discharge of his official duties, more money than he as such sheriff had paid therefor.

GEORGE PETERBACH, Judge.

HIS SUCCESSOR APPOINTED.

The supervisors took no action in the matter of appointing a sheriff till in the afternoon. Several applications for the position were read to the board at the morning session. When the supervisors were called to order at 2 o'clock the room was crowded with persons anxious to know what action the board would take. At a few minutes past 2 Chester Thompson, clerk of the board, read the judgment. It was received and placed on file.

D. C. Reed, vice-president of the Republican county central committee, presented two petitions and a resolution. The petitions requested that James Russell be appointed to fill the vacancy in the sheriff's office made by the removal of Mr. Folks. The names of 200 of the representative Republicans of the county were attached. The resolution was adopted by the central committee and asked that, as Mr. Russell was the nominee on the Republican ticket for office of sheriff and particularly well fitted to fill the position, he be appointed. Supervisor Judson in behalf of his constituency handed Chairman Buck three petitions all of which asked that A. K. Cravath of Escondido be appointed to the position.

A communication from the Democratic convention requesting that S. A. McDowell be appointed sheriff was read. Another communication recommending S. A. McDowell was also read. At the conclusion of the reading of the last petition by Clerk Thompson, the supervisors proceeded to ballot. The result was as follows: A. K. Cravath 3 votes, James Russell 2.

Upon the announcement of the result of the ballot Chairman Buck declared Mr. Cravath sheriff of the county of San Diego, 111 January 1, 1903.

Supervisors Rainbow and Woolman voted for Mr. Russell, and Supervisors Gunn, Judson and Buck for Mr. Cravath.

"I voted for Jim Russell at the convention," said Mr. Rainbow, "and I voted for him today. What does Mr. Cravath know about the sheriff's office? Jim Russell knows everything that a sheriff should, and is the right man for the place."

Mr. Folks, who was present, said he should do all he possibly could to help Mr. Cravath, and would remain with him till he understood the duties required of him.

It is reported that the new sheriff will make no change in his deputies.

lands, or their positions are so high that they can't detect the odor. I am sure they are close enough to it. In one of these closets the box is broken and the contents run out upon the ground. These closets run about ten (10) steps from the kitchen door. I wish women who are known as thorough housekeepers would be appointed for house-inspection throughout the city. This particular work of hunting out dirty holes and corners is especially within woman's province, and I believe they can do it better than men."

For Disturbing the Peace.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doe of Fifteenth and J streets passed the night in the city jail. John and his wife failed to pay their water rent and that essential fluid was shut off. They resorted to beer and other intoxicants, and along in the afternoon they concluded to come down and have some fun with the city water employees. John left his wife to hold the horse while he entered the water office. How he did "cuss" and abuse the employees. Finally they called in Officer Cota, who ejected the late customer. The latter climbed into his buggy and drove direct to Twenty-second and I streets and began to ride a disturbance at the home of one of the water office employees. In reply to a telephone message Officer Cota was dispatched to the scene, and putting the two in their buggy drove them to the city jail. They will come up for hearing this morning on the charge of drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

He Admitted His Guilt.

Several of the Mexicans in the county jail who were cell mates with Francisco Torres while he was confined in the county jail here waiting for the sheriff of Orange county to remove him to Santa Ana where he was wanted for murdering Capt. McKelvey, foreman of Mine Modjeska's ranch, have since Torres was trucked confessed to Jailor Kroll that the prisoner while in this city admitted to them that he had murdered a man near Santa Ana.

It is reported that Angel Sanchez, who is related to Torres, is preparing to enter a claim against the government for the death of the murderer. He says he has evidence to show that Torres was not the slayer of McKelvey, but that the murderer was a Swede who resides at Los Angeles.
