

Much of the interior artifacts from the original chapel have been retained, including the tabernacle, the altar with its beautiful marbled finish, some woodwork including pews and doors, and José Aguirre's tombstone is laid in the floor.